DEDICATION

The senior class of 1962 is proud to dedicate its yearbook to Miss Jackolyn Rae Hutchins.

With the dedication of this yearbook goes the respect and gratitude which Miss Hutchins rightly deserves. It was with her guidance, cooperation and integrity that we have been able to attain our goals.

We wish happiness, prosperity and success to a fine advisor, teacher, and friend.

CLASS HISTORY

On September 6, 1958, more than eighty excited freshmen awaited their fate on the school grounds of the Boyer Memorial High School. In a short time, these eighty freshmen calmed down and started the year by electing class officers. They were: Allen Shoop, president; Kenneth Minnich, vice-president; Douglas Kaufman, secretary; and James Lebo, treasurer. The class had a "Holiday Hop" and a few bake sales. Thus ended our freshman year.

September of 1959 made its appearance sooner than anticipated, but approximately seventy sophomores reappeared with it. However, this time we made our appearance in the new high school. Our class officers were: Allen Shoop, president; Kenneth Minnich, vice-president; Sandy Miller, secretary; James Lebo and Noralie Whitaker, treasurers. Gloria Portzline was chosen class reporter. We picked blue and white for class colors and the Carnation for the class flower. We also received our class rings, pennants, and hats. Our activities were a dance and two bake sales.

When we returned to school in September of 1960, our number had diminished to a noticeable degree. Nevertheless, the rest of the class struggled on. Class officers were: Kenneth Minnich, president; Douglas Kaufman, vice-president; Sandy Miller, secretary; James Lebo and Gloria Portzline, treasurers; Kenneth Magaro, business manager; and Darlene Hoffman, class reporter. We had a class play entitled "The Groom Said No!" Joan Enders was chosen Halloween queen attendant. Our class motto was chosen. It was and is "Tonight we launch; where shall we anchor?" We had "King Neptune's Court" for our prom theme, and we won Interclass Day, which was quite a feather in our hats; we beat the seniors.

This was the year we had long awaited, 1961. We were seniors at last. Our class officers were: Kenneth Minnich, president; Douglas Kaufman, Vice-president; Sandy Miller, secretary; James Lebo and Noralie Whitaker, treasurers; Carol Reinfeld, business manager; and Kenneth Magaro, class reporter. "Anything For A Laugh" was our class play. Our Homecoming Queen was Joan Enders, while our Halloween Queen was Alice Baker. So passed our last year at our bloved Alma Mater.

CLASS WILLS . . .

I, Alice Baker, will my good fortune to the most deserving girl in the Junior class.
I, Jan Bowman, will my driving cushion to Mrs. Sprecher, who has trouble seeing over the steering wheel.
I, Stanley Brown, will my ability to wash boards to those who can't keep their mouths shut.
I, Dennis Cooper, will my daintiness to all those who are big and clumsy.
I, Bonnie Dorman, will some of my bashfulness to Darlene Dorman, who is quite vigorous.
I, Joan Enders, will my love for "Bup" Spicher to Janice Shoop.
I, Nancy Enders, will my ability to understand my little brother to those who are constantly fighting with theirs.

I, Stella Enders, will my ability to agitate Miss Liddick to those who wish they could.
I, Larry Fisher, will my ability to spend money wastefully to those who like to "pinch pennies."
I, Miriam George, will my ability to milk cows to all those who don't know how.
I, Harold Harman, will my head football managing to Terry Snyder, who is well on his way.
I, Linda Helt, will my gym suit to any unfortunate junior who looses hers next year.
I, Darlene Hoffman, will my yearbook assignments to next year's staff.
I. Kay Hoffman, will my ability to keep quiet to those who are always talking.
I, Nancy Hoover, will my ability to "put that in my pipe and smoke it" to Mr. Solenberger.
I, Herbert Holtzman, will my ability to get into trouble to some good underclassman.
I, Douglas Kaufman, will all my good examples of school courtesy to Mr. Zimmerman who keeps a record of them.
I, Lend Keefer, will my scientific mentality to Mr. Clouser, who doesn't think I have much.
I, Mary Kaye Keiter, will my pleasant personality to Janice Boyer, who needs it.
I, Ronald Kelly, will my intelligence to anyone in bad enough shape to need it.
I, Darlene Kerstetter, will my glasses to anyone who has trouble seeing.
I, George Kochenour, will my ability to go with one girl to those who are always changing.
I, James Lebo, will all my stiffness from basketball, baseball, and wrestling to anyone who wants to have a little fun with a chiropractor.
I, Hazel Lehman, will my ability to walk through the halls to those who race at "breakneck" speeds.
I, Henry Lehman, will my ability to drive like a "mad-fool" to anyone who is afraid.
I, Morris Liddick, will all my curly hair to some unfortunate girl with straight hair.
I, Kenneth Magaro, will my ability to keep still on the end of the football bench to Ike Alexander who is always fidgety.
I, Bonita Miller, will my perfect set of teeth to all those who could use them.
I, Sandra Miller, will my cheerleading outfit to someone who wishes to be a cheerleader.
I, Kenneth Minnich, will my ability to play in sports to my brother, Gary, who may need it.
I, Carolyn Patton, will my ability to find things out to those poor kids who are always in the dark about everything.
I, James Peck, will my shyness towards girls to Daniel Miller.
I, Keith Poffenberger, will my ability to catch passes to Gary Hoffman for next year.
I, Gloria Portzline, will my excess weight to Mr. Clouser who doesn't really need it.
I, Carol Reinfeld, will my position as cheerleading captain to the girl who deserves it the most next year.
I, Elizabeth Rettinger, will my absentmindedness to all those who are dumb enough to take it.
I, Bonnie Roadcap, will my cute jokes to Mr. Temple.
I, Rosemary Roman, will my long, red hair to any bald-headed man who needs some.
I, Pamela Rothermel, will my opportunity of graduating from high school to anyone who has been less fortunate.
I, John Scheidler, will my intellectual ability to my little brother.
I, Jackie Seiler, will my basketball ability to Tana Shoop, who is already a fine player.
I, Allen Shoop, will my ability to get along with the girls to my brother, Ernie, who is doing a good job already.
I, Gerald Shoop, will my ability to play third base to Gary Koppenheffer, who will be taking my place next year.
I, Gladys Shoop, will my job at Tropical Treat to anyone crazy enough to want it.
I, James Smeltz, will my size nine, silent, white, plastic shoes to Mr. Clouser, who now wears noisy boxes.
I, Neil Snyder, will my many sisters to Harry Scheidler, who hasn't any.
I, Clair Spicher, am too poor to will anything to anybody.
I, Dorothy Spotts, will my ability to blush easily to Trudy Goudy, who doesn't know how.
I, William Stahler, will my intense dislike for English Literature class to be distributed among the juniors.
I, John Stoneroad will my big feet to any "small-footed" underclassman.
I, Betty Strohecker, will my short skirts to a certain teacher, who doesn't seem to like them.
I, Robert Sweigard, will my excuses to those who can't find any to get out of football practice.
I, Rosemary Troutman, will my ability to be on American Bandstand with Daneen Allman to all those who wish to go.
I, Kenneth Weaver, will my marks in school to Jack Seiler, who doesn't need them.
I, Larry Wertz, will my ability to stay away from Trevorton to Roger Maus.
I, Noralie Whitaker will all the problems of meeting with the Hi-Lite's deadlines to the next editor.
I, Leroy Willow, will my ability to loaf to football practice to Amos (Rosie) Sweigard, who is doing fine already.
I, Gary Zimmerman, will my ability to get along with my father to those who don't know how.
I, Samuel Zimmerman, will my books to any underclassman who is willing to take them.

OUR LEADERS

Once again "that time" draws near. "That time" is the end of high school days for some fifty-nine seniors. But it is not the end. It is really a beginning. A beginning of a new life-a life that gets its start from high school.

Now that your twelve years of schooling are almost completed, remember what you learned makes the world bright or dull. Make use of all your opportunities rather than losing them.

Marlin E. Rettinger
Supervising Principal

Good work, class of '62. You have now reached one of the most important points of your life. It is up to you now, as an individual, to use what you have learned, in order to better our busy world.

As you leave your high school days behind you, strive to make the days ahead of you, the best you have to offer.

Marlin E. Zimmerman
High School Principal

THE KITTENS

JV FOOTBALL TEAM

Take a good look at these boys! They will uphold the name, Halifax, in football. With coaching like that of Mr. Hoffner the team is sure to be good. The boys have football spirit and that always helps.

We, of the yearbook staff, wish them the best of luck.
